

The logo for the British Aphasiology Society (BAS) features the letters 'BAS' in a bold, yellow, serif font, set against a dark blue oval background.

British Aphasiology Society

International Biennial Conference

8, 9, 10, September 2021

Virtual conference, hosted by Newcastle University, UK

Call for Abstracts

Abstracts are invited for the British Aphasiology Society 2021.

Abstracts are welcomed on any area relating to the study and management of aphasia resulting from stroke, brain injury, dementia or other conditions.

There will be live presentations, pre-recorded presentations, posters with lightening talks and virtual table discussions.

Please note: If you submitted an abstract for the conference planned in September 2020, we will be in touch with you directly. There is no need to resubmit your abstract.

Keynote speakers

Deborah Hersh, Edith Cowan University, Perth, Australia

David Howard, Newcastle University, UK

Beth Jefferies, York University, UK

Brenda Rapp, Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, USA

Abstract information

Abstracts for presentations and poster should be submitted via the following form (click here) no later than Friday 30th April 2021. Abstracts must be structured, using the following headings: background, method, results, discussion (or similar). The word limit is 400 words and authors can cite up to 4 references (excluded from word count). Abstracts must not contain figures or tables. Abstracts will be reviewed anonymously.

Authors will be notified by end of May 2021.

If you are interested in hosting a virtual table discussion, please contact the Organising Committee for further details.

For enquiries please contact: aphasia@ncl.ac.uk

Julie Morris, Janet Webster, Christos Salis, Frauke Buerk (Conference Organising Committee)

Please note that all attendees (including presenters) should be members of the British Aphasiology Society. For information about the Society and how to register with BAS, please visit the BAS Website. For further information about the conference, visit

<https://conferences.ncl.ac.uk/basconference2021/>